P&A is published on-line 6 times per year. Single issues are $4.95.

From the Editor

Hello there, and welcome to the sample issue of P&A Puzzle Magazine. Each issue of P&A Puzzle Magazine features a connected series of puzzles sometimes referred to as a puzzleganza or puzzle hunt.

This sample issue is intended to give you a taste of what is in each issue of P&A Puzzle Magazine. The first puzzle (“The P&A Sampler Sampler”) is the metapuzzle for this issue. Each of the other puzzles has a one- or two-word answer. When combined with the solution to the metapuzzle, you’ll get a three-word answer to this question: “What will you say when finished with this sampler?”

Normally, answers are given in the following issue. To avoid spoilers for this sampler, answers are given on the pages 11 and 12, but upside down. If you get stuck, check out the hints on the P&A Puzzle Magazine website (<http://www.pandamagazine.com>).

In addition to the puzzleganza, each issue of P&A Puzzle Magazine contains several other puzzles of different types, including cryptograms, quotation puzzles, crosswords and logic puzzles. Issues are $4.95, and a 6-issue subscription is available for $24.95. Back issues are available as well.

Dig in and enjoy! If you have any comments or questions, e-mail me at editor@pandamagazine.com.

■ The P&A Sampler Sampler

What would a sampler be without a puzzle about a sampler? Can you determine where each chocolate goes in the grid below?

A	B	C
D	E	F
G	H	I

1. No two of the three chocolates with nuts (almond, peanut, and walnut) are in the same row or column.
2. No two of the three chocolate confections (honey, coffee, and milk) are in the same row or column.
3. No two of the three chocolates with fruit (cherry, raspberry, and orange) are in the same row or column.
4. The almond and orange chocolates are in opposite corners from one another.
5. The raspberry chocolate is in the row above the honey chocolate, which is in the row above the peanut chocolate.
6. The coffee and walnut chocolates are not adjacent to one another.
7. The milk chocolate is not in the left-most column.

What Others Are Saying!

Just check out what other individuals have said! In the word search grid below, people can be found starting in a square and moving north, south, east or west, but never diagonally. (You can change directions several times mid-name.) No letter is used more than once.

“Eat my shorts!”

“Just one more thing...”

“Dear Diane”

“Don’t make me angry...”

“You’re fired!”

“Respect mah authoritay!”

“Aaaaaaaaay!”

“Hey now!”

“I love it when a plan comes together.”

“Dude...”

“The tribe has spoken.”

“Here it is, your moment of zen.”

“Who loves ya, baby?”

“You rang?”

“Would you believe...?”

“Let’s get ready to rummmmmmmble!”

“Live long and prosper”

“One of these days Alice...”

“Just the facts, ma’am.”

“Let’s be careful out there.”

“De plane! De plane!”

“Up your nose with a rubber hose.”

Kudos to Sudoku

We even have the occasional sudoku here in P&A Puzzle Magazine...such as this monstrosity.

In each 9x9 section, the numbers 1 through 9 appear once in each row, column, and 3x3 box. Each section uses different clues:

Upper Left: The greater and lesser than signs indicate which square has the greater value.

Upper Right: Cluedoku...enter the numerical answers to each clue using the direction given.

- A: With 4, Lost numbers (SE)
- B: Skroob's luggage combination (W)
- C: Answer to life, the universe, everything (SW)
- D: Agent Maxwell Smart (S)
- E: George Orwell novel (S)
- F: Heinz number (W)
- G: Revolutionary year (NW)
- H: Commodore ____ (W)

I: Code for homicide (and movie) (E)

J: Legal voting age (S)

Lower Left: Killer Sudoku...numbers in each cage (box with a dashed outline) add up to the total shown. Numbers within each cage must be unique.

Lower Right: Each letter can be found in the English spelling of that number (ONE, TWO, THREE, FOUR, FIVE, SIX, SEVEN, EIGHT, NINE)

Center: Normal Sudoku. Use results from the other grids to complete.

The Symbols: Add up numbers for each symbol.

Common Connections

It's really important to find connections among puzzle answers, and figure out what's missing, such as the final, four-letter answer to this puzzle (which was written prior to a specific event in June 2009).

■ Good Griddance

P&A Puzzle Magazine leads the way in an ongoing journey to explore new forms of crosswords.

In this puzzle, the grid is divided into 4x4 sectors. Clues lead to answers that are either partially or entirely found in that sector. When finished, five unclued entries will need to be completed. Four are related, the fifth is what they have in common. This commonality will be your puzzle answer.

Upper Left Sector

Game Phillip W. Sergeant writes about
Oscar-winning film dealing with racism
Emulate Peggy Fleming or Wayne Gretzky
California or Maine

Upper Sector

Dropping off drycleaning and picking up dinner at the Colonel's, e.g.

■ Answers for the Sample Issue Continued

Kudos to Sudoku

The completed grid is shown. The symbols, interpreted as described, spell POACH.

Good Griddance

Unclued entries are PICARD, JANEWAY, ARCHER, and KIRK, as well as RANK. The rank of each was CAPTAIN.

The P&A Sampler Sampler

Almond is one corner, orange in the opposite corner. This means raspberry and cherry are in the two squares adjacent to almond, and walnut and peanut adjacent to orange. Peanut is in the bottom row, so it must be bottom center, and raspberry top center. D and F must be walnut and cherry in some order, so honey is E. Coffee and milk chocolate are either A and I or C and G. Either way, milk chocolate is on the right, and caramel on the left. Coffee is therefore A or G. Walnut cannot be D, it must be F, orange I, cherry D, and almond A. That makes coffee G and milk chocolate C.

The logo for each puzzle shows one of these ingredients. From top to bottom, left to right:

SEPIA | STOPWATCHES | PAAR

SOUP NAZI | CAPTAIN | STRIPMALL

POACH | OPRAH | SPEAKEASY

Each answer contains the letters P2A, with a different letter replacing the ?. Again from top to bottom,
