P&A Magazine would not exist without the cooperation of our sponsors. And now, a word from our sponsors.

A story about Colorado, perhaps (1 3 6 7)

Cup that you would not likely use for a Colorado bulldog (1 5 6 9 11)

Follower (3 5 7 8 9)

Gem, but not Colorado's state gem (3 4 5 7 13)

Part of the Inverness Hotel (4 5 7 8)

What a Colorado state senator might do (2 3 6 11 12)

"Convention", e.g. (7 9 12 13)

Powerful beings (1 2 4 12)

Showed some sense? (1 5 9 13 14)

Huh...there do not seem to be any sponsors or a grid...maybe somebody else got those brochures?

P&A Magazine is published six times per year. Issues, available in PDF format, are $4.95, and $24.95 for a six-issue subscription. Many thanks to Lance Nathan, my test-solver, Joe Cabrera, who designed the logo, and Ana Troncoso, who inspired me to put together this brochure.

P&A Magazine is the bimonthly on-line puzzle magazine. Issues feature 32 pages of word, logic and visual puzzles. Each issue contains a puzzle extravaganza...a series of interconnected puzzles that all tie into a metapuzzle. Just like this brochure!

But don't take our word for it. Here are some excerpts from what they are saying about us on Metacritic.com!

"...very little bits..."

...breathes heavily...

"...out-dated, cliched..."

"...just toss it..."

"...two words: utter fiction..."

The following puzzles will tell you about some of P&A's features. Taken together, they can reveal:

What does P&A Magazine do?

It ***** **** *****!

P&A Magazine is an inventive magazine...and you know what they say about building a better mousetrap!

Seven new mousetraps are on the market, each distinguished by certain qualities. Can you determine each trap's qualities?

Grid for mousetrap qualities with columns: Gray, Made of copper, Has a handle, Spins, Comfort grip, Non-toxic, Dishwasher-safe, Better than a mousetrap and rows: RatFixer, Like Snap!, Icy-Stop-U, Urn-Trap, Steel Eye, Eek!-Senic, Catalisk.

- 1. Each quality is possessed by exactly two traps.
2. Exactly four traps have exactly two qualities; of the other three traps, Urn-Trap has more qualities than Like Snap!, which has more qualities than Eek!-Senic.
3. No two traps have the same set of qualities.
4. The two traps that spin also have comfort grips. Neither is the Icy-Stop-U.
5. The two traps that are non-toxic are Eek!-Senic and a trap that has a handle.
6. The two traps made of copper are actually both better than actual mousetraps.
7. Both of the gray items have more qualities than the Catalisk.
8. Like Snap isn't made of copper.
9. The Catalisk is dishwasher safe.
10. Neither Icy-Stop-U or RatFixer have any qualities in common with Urn-Trap.
11. One of the inventors noted that all seven traps have eight letters in their name.

P&A Magazine's title is a rebus for panda! We've "cornered" the market on creative spelling here at P&A!

10x10 grid of letters for a rebus puzzle.

In this grid, you'll find the products below. Each name bends 90 degrees exactly once, and no names overlap. Oh...we probably shouldn't have run the word list through a spell-checker. Oops.
